

Is Telehealth accessible for people with disability?

A WHO-IDDC Seminar

March 25, 2021
14:00-15:30 CET

The current COVID-19 pandemic has revealed that many people with disability experience difficulties accessing and using telehealth services.

To address this, WHO and the International Telecommunication Union (ITU) have initiated the development of a global standard for accessibility of telehealth services.

Join WHO and the International Disability and Development Consortium (IDDC) to discuss challenges and outline concrete solutions that healthcare providers and manufacturers of telehealth platforms need to implement to make telehealth accessible.

We look forward to seeing you!

For more information: disability@who.int

Agenda

- Telehealth 101
- Telehealth users' perspectives
- WHO-ITU standard for accessibility of telehealth services
- Break out groups and feedback

Register here

